DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.
2. Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Deblasi et al. 6,036,945.
3. The main difference between the instant application and the cited reference is that while applicant claims a gel to be used with an active ingredient, Deblasi et al. have put the active ingredient into the gel already. Since applicant's claims do not restrict the composition to wax and vegetable oil, the rejection is proper and is maintained.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments filed 6/21/05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Why Deblasi et al. chose wax and oil to be among their ingredients is immaterial. "A pasty wax alloy" is indicative of a gel. See column 7, lines 51-54. Furthermore, there is nothing in the instant application about recrystallization being an obstacle to the invention. Since the particle size of the wax is less than 5 microns, further mixing is not necessary (column 7, lines 51-54). Claim 27 also describes continuous mixing while cooling, which corresponds to mixing with sufficient energy to raise the temperature and simultaneously cooling the mass. There nothing about colloidal solutions in the claims. The "powder alloy" of the reference is to a milled product without solvent (claim 6), not to the solution (claim 27). The rejection is maintained.

Conclusion

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
